I am an over-the-road trucker and XM Radio provides me with up-to-the-minute road and weather reports without my having to waste time searching for a local station. It is a safety feature in my truck not to have to enter a city and run into a closed road due to an accident or weather condition. I am able to keep my truck out of a situation where I would be in the way of letting emergency personnel do their jobs. XM Radio provides me with all that information and more. To take that away from me would not be in the best interest of safety for the general public that I serve. XM Radio allows me to drive with more safety than I ever had before. AM/FM can never achieve the reliability and clear reception that satellite radio has achieved in its short existence. Weather conditions just won't allow that to happen. FM Radio just don't have the range to be totally reliable. We need reliable and complete reception that only XM Radio is able to provide. That is not to say we no longer need AM/FM Radio. What we need is for AM/FM and XM to work together to provide total communications and news for the entire nation. These are my feelings and beliefs.
